

CSIA Class Enrollment Contingency and Travel Adjustment Policy

Please be advised that all scheduled classes are contingent upon reaching a minimum number of participants. Should the minimum enrollment not be met, we reserve the right to cancel the class. We are committed to providing you with as much notice as possible, ideally no later than three weeks before the class start date, to allow ample time for adjusting travel arrangements.

In the event of cancellation, registered participants will be informed immediately. Any fees paid will be fully refunded or, if preferred, applied to a future class. Please note that we are not responsible for any costs associated with changing travel plans, as we strive to provide sufficient notice for such adjustments.

We appreciate your understanding and continued support.
